- Theatre: Drafting rental agreements and co-production agreements, and advising on other performance oriented legal issues
- Multimedia: Advice related to software licensing issues, information technology law, and intellectual property issues
- Publishing and Print Media: Advising on issues related to advertising, author agreements and intellectual property, especially relating to copyright
- Visual Arts and Design: Including fine arts, issues of consignment of artworks to art dealers, moral rights of sculptors regarding works in public places and industrial design, issues related to the protection of graphic design elements in products
- The team also assists clients in matters relating to defamation, personality rights and privacy rights issues

EMPLOYMENT AND LABOUR

Indian labour statutes are archaic, complex, rigid, often over-lapping and most importantly varying from one State to another. Our Firm with its in-depth understanding of various aspects of labour and employment laws insulate business organisations from challenges emerging from these labour law statutes.

Our Firm's wealth of experience in a wide array of issues relating to labour and employment enables us to assist our clients in avoiding distractions of regulatory investigations and employee disputes. Our Firm's strength is in understanding our clients' businesses and in our ability to work closely with them to provide realistic, cost-effective and business-savvy solutions to the human resource and employment problems confronted by them.

AREAS OF EXPERTISE

Our Firm guides both domestic and international clients through the web of regulatory compliances and legal aspects of employment and labour law. Our extensive experience includes a full spectrum of non-litigation and litigation advice in all types of labour and employment related matters including the following:

EMPLOYMENT AND LABOUR

- Advising and Counseling: We advise employers in all areas of day-to-day personnel practices and employee relations matters, including discrimination and harassment issues, layoffs and plant closures, interpreting and applying employment policies and legal requirements for specific personnel decisions, conducting and supervising internal investigations, counseling on appropriate actions to minimize risk of liability and negotiating and preparing employment contracts and separation agreements. We also assist clients for preparing and enforcing non-disclosure, trade secret, non-solicitation, and non-compete agreements.
- HR Documentation: Our Firm's attorneys are familiar with the pitfalls that may arise in HR documentation and therefore our Firm provides speedy and concise advice on a variety of HR documents. Besides our Firm's attorneys are adept in advising as well as drafting:
 - Offer letters, employment agreements for key employees as well as non-key employees
 - Employee Non-Disclosure, Non-Compete and Non-Solicit Agreements

 - HR policies and manuals
 - Closure Notices and Letters
 - Consultancy Agreements
 - Termination Letters, Severance Letters and Release Agreements
 - Show cause notices
 - Contract Labour Agreements
 - Review of MOU with Trade Unions HR Audit
 - Employee Training Bonds

EMPLOYMENT AND LABOUR

- Employee Handbooks / Manuals: Our Firm's attorneys understand that an employee handbook is not merely a code of conduct but an employee's guide to appreciate organisation's mission, vision, values and work-culture, and assimilate them with employees' personal goals and aspirations. An employee handbook facilitates smooth functioning of the organisation by setting out procedures, rules and regulations for the employees within the organisation in its daily operations including dealing with clients and customers. The employment and labour law practice group at our Firm specializes in drafting crisp and customized employee handbooks to suit the requirements of the clients. The handbook is structured to incorporate precise clauses on standard employment practices including in relation to conditions of service, code of ethics, vacation or leave policies, prohibition of harassment, employment benefits, discipline and grievance redressal, separation, confidential information, usage of organisation's resources including computers / internet, assignment of intellectual property rights, etc.
- Structuring of Employee Benefits & Compensation: The key to acquiring new talent and retaining old employees is formulating an attractive remuneration and incentive package which is simultaneously tax efficient for both the employer and the employee. Our Firm's attorneys assist client in formulating such tax-efficient and labour statute compliant compensation packages which are acceptable to both the employer and employee.

EMPLOYMENT AND LABOUR

- Stock Options: We advise clients on structuring their equity-based employee compensation plans to attract and retain best talent. We structure the stock options pursuant to the guidelines / regulations which regulate the issue of stock options by an Indian company or by a foreign company to Indian employees.
- HR Due-Diligence / HR Audit: The most important aspect of any M&A transactions is that the acquirer essentially acquires human capital. Our HR audit enables the acquirer to identify key employees, review and assess the level of HR documentation of the target and detect any threats in the form of non-compliances under various central / state labour legislations. Our Firm's attorneys conduct HR audit to deliver positive solutions. Besides HR due diligence for M&A, our Firm assists many clients in undertaking internal HR audit to ensure that they are compliant under various labor statutes and thwart any legislative action for non- compliance. Our Firm has also handled sensitive matters involving allegations such as bribery, corrupt practices, etc.

EMPLOYMENT AND LABOUR

- Advising in relation to Transfer of Employment: Transfer of business undertaking whether by amalgamation, restructuring, sale of business undertaking, assets sale or otherwise involves several issues such as the transfer of employees and their accrued benefits, taking employees and / or trade union into confidence. We advise clients on the various labour laws implications arising out of such transactions and assist clients in structuring such transactions in a manner so that the transfer of employment complies with all statutory requirements and is free from any legal impediments.
- Disputes and litigation: We represent employers in administrative and judicial forums in which workplace disputes are redressed. We know how to gauge exposure, manage risks and litigate cost-effectively. We help develop best practice policies to manage personnel effectively, and to reduce the risk of costly and disruptive litigation, but when litigation is necessary, we are aggressive and proactive.

NON-PROFIT ORGANISATIONS

We have expertise in advising clients in the setting up of non-profit entities in the form of societies, trusts and Section 8 companies. We assist in the preparation and filing of applications for registration of the entity with the concerned authority, in seeking exemption from Income Tax authorities, and in obtaining approvals from Foreign Contribution Regulation Authorities for the receipt of contributions from foreign sources.

The team regularly assists non-profit entities in drafting and structuring the rules and regulations for their systematic governance and operation.
